The Glendive Times rejoice over the organization of Dawson county. We hope are long to rejoice over the organization of a new county with Billings as the county seat.

Some enterprising business man would find a good investment in the establishment of a good coal and wood yard in the town. The question of fuel for the approaching winter is one that interests all our citizens.

A communication from our legal friend Mr. J. A. Smith, barrister and attorney at law, containing some very good hits on the political aspect of things in Custer county, is crowded out for lack of space. We hope to hear from Mr. Smith in the same strain at some future time.

The fact that Custer county has, according to the re-apportionment, two representatives and one councilman will be a source of satisfaction to the people in this part of the county, as they expect and will insist upon being fully represented in the Territorial legislature.

The teams loaded with wool which arrive in town every day is sufficient to demonstrate to the most incredulous the feasibility of establishing a woolen mill at this point. We understood that some Eastern gentlemen were interested in establishing such a manufactory here, but lately we have heard nothing of it. Some of our energetic business men might by a little effort help this enterprise along.

We publish in this issue a condensed account of the Republican convention which met at Miles City on Wednesday, the 27th ult. The proceedings were characterized by the greatest decorum, and the single aim of the delegates from the various precincts seemed to be the harmonious organization of the Republican party in Custer county; but it is probable that a different impression may be conveyed at the adjourned meeting which will be held at the call of the chairman of the central committee for the purpose of nominating representatives and councilmen, when Miles City may endeavor to secure the majority of the nominees for the legislature.

The question of re-apportionment has at length been decided. The board held its third meeting on Sept. 29th and apportioned the legislative members and council districts of the Territory so that Custer county has two representatives and one councilman. Dawson and Chouteau will form one council district with one councilman jointly. Dawson to have one representative and Chouteau two; Lewis and Clark three representatives and two councilmen; Silver Bow three representatives and one councilman; Missoula one representative and one councilman. The remaining counties to have two representatives and one councilman.

The following circular has been issued by General Manager Haupt:

"Mr. C. T. Hobart, having been appointed managing director of the Yellowstone Park association, will be transferred to Montana, and placed in charge of the time and attention required in the preparation of plans of operation, has induced his voluntary resignation of the position of superintendent of the Dakota division, to take effect November 1, proximo. It is a source of gratification to the managers of the Northern Pacific railroad that the connection of Mr. Hobart with the company will not be entirely severed, and that the superintendent of the Park Branch, the most personal and official relations that have so long existed will be continued and maintained. Mr. J. T. Odell, a gentleman of long experience in the construction and operation of railroads, has been appointed superintendent of the Dakota division, and will take charge on the retirement of the present incumbent.

Mr. Hobart is well known throughout the Northwestern country, and to him the credit of having originated the National Park scheme is due.

The Fargo Argus having succeeded in finding a fellow who will lie to the extent of a column and a half about Billings, proceeds to give publicity to his scurrilous remarks. A specimen of the calumny contained in the tissue of falsehood presented for the delectation of the readers of the Argus is the assertion that there are but thirty or forty wooden buildings in the town, only three of which could be considered substandard. We shall not say how many buildings there are in our town, but will content ourselves with quoting Col. Lounsbury, who said when he visited us some days since, that he had counted two hundred and forty-six buildings, and we might add that over two-thirds of this number are substantial structures. Of course the agricultural and general resources of the town are treated in the same way as its buildings, and the street railway comes in for its share of the abuse. We have not now space to reply to the detractions regarding our resources. The resources have often been presented to the readers of our paper, and we shall continue to lay them before the people though not in the form of a reply to such misrepresentations as those contained in the trumped up interview published in the Argus. We will however say for the information of those not aware of the fact, that the street cars are now here, and that the grading for the same is just a trifle more substantial than a "few furrows plowed in the street."

In this connection it would be amusing were it not more than disgusting to observe the delight which the Bismarck Herald and Mandan Pioneer take in copying the "interview" from the Argus.

In conclusion we have to say that some of the best and most enterprising men of Fargo, Bismarck and Mandan, have not only invested their money here but have cast their lot among us, and in saying this we do not wish to be understood as detracting in any measure from those towns. Our position and location in this beautiful valley with the large territory naturally tributary to our town is such that it does not need any disparaging statements regarding other locations to induce people to come here.

LOCAL NEWS.

The street cars have arrived. Mr. VanCleave, of the firm of VanCleave & Wadsworth, is expected here this week.

Martine & McArthur's illuminated sign is another attraction for their popular restaurant.

Cattle are being shipped from here in the parlor cars, which have been arriving here for some time past few days. The Central Pacific business car, having on board the government inspectors and other dignitaries, arrived here Saturday.

A race between Geo. Tamblin's roan mare and Life Hensley's sorrel mare on Saturday for $50 a side, was very closely contested. The roan won however.

A letter has been received by a gentleman in this town from Mr. Botkin, stating that he and Col. Sanders will speak in Billings about October 13th.

Mr. Garrison's team ran away on Minnesota Avenue yesterday afternoon. Several new stores, which were in the wagon, are now good for the scrap heap.

E. Daniels, who represents the Washington Star, paid our office a visit today, and expressed himself as being surprised at the resources of this country.

The town is again gladdened with the presence of those of the legal fraternity who visited Miles City for the purpose of attending court and the Republican convention.

The railway mail clerks from Bismarck East have been instructed to make up a pouch for this point, consequently there is now a through mail to Billings by train.

Dr. Saxton, who was located in Billings for some time as assayer of the N. P. R. R. has been exploring the mining regions of the Gallatin valley and has made some very encouraging reports.

Truman Swetland has left for the East. The business which has been carried on by him and his brother under the firm name of Swetland Bros. will be conducted by Swetland & Gysinger.

Vice-President Oakes of the N. P. R. R. and party are expected here to-morrow. It is their intention to proceed westward for the purpose of inspecting the work upon the Bozeman and Mullan tunnels.

On Sunday evening some sneak thief cut a hole in Dick Mansfield's tent and succeeded in taking away with a hunch and chain worth about $175 and $145 in money. We have not heard of the capture of the thief.

Our carpenters are now figuring upon the building of the new Congregational church, which is to be a handsome structure, and so soon as the proposals are accepted the work will be pushed forward as rapidly as possible.

H. I. Tickner, superintendent of Wells, Fargo & Co.'s express is in town arranging for the transportation of express matter for the company of which he is superintendent from here to Bozeman over Gilmer, Salisbury & Co.'s stage line.

Camp Bros. have bought out the firm of Kreger and Oakes, and will carry on the hardware, copper and tinware business in Mr. Hulme's new store on the corner of Minnesota Avenue and 27th street. We would call attention to their advertisement in this issue.

All those conversant with the physical condition of the country between here and the Park are unanimous in stating that it is the best route for a railroad. Every week we hear from some one who knows whereof he speaks, that it is the best route to the Clark Fork mines and the National Park.

The ladies of Billings intend to give a concert with tableaux next Tuesday evening, the proceeds of which are to be used for the purpose of fitting up the temporary church and parsonage. Further notice of this entertainment will be given, and we trust that it will be successful in every way.

The body of a woman was found in the river this morning, which was identified as that of a Mrs. Carter, who has been here a year from some one who knows whereof he speaks, that it is the best route to the Clark Fork mines and the National Park.

C. W. Wright, of Bennett Creek, was in town this week. In the course of a general conversation regarding the Clark Fork river, Mr. Wright gave expression to his faith in the future of the mining district, and stated that the route to the Park via the Clark Fork from this point was the most feasible for a railroad.

It was rumored on the streets yesterday that an accident had happened on the railroad bridge across the Powder river, and that this accident was the cause of no train arriving from the East last evening. We have been unable to ascertain the particulars of the accident at the present writing, but understand that the cause of the train not arriving was owing to some trouble at the Missouri river crossing.

A man, supposed to be Charlie Jones, broke into the Blue Grass Saloon last evening, and after coolly lighting the bracket lamp, proceeded to investigate the place for the purpose of getting valuables. He found Jno. Tinkler's pocket book which contained some papers and checks of no value to the thief, and made away with it. Mr. Tinkler had left his pocket book there for safe keeping. Jones was seen and spoken to by Deputy Sheriff Crowley this morning, but through some misunderstanding was not arrested.

We regret to announce that Judge Edward Fawkes, who lingered on the threshold of death for the past eight days breathed his last at 8:30 p. m. yesterday. Judge Fawkes was well known throughout this and adjoining Territories. He was a native of England, and followed for some years the life of a sailor, visiting nearly every port in the world during the time. In 1850 he located in California. He afterwards became a British Possession, and then came to this Territory. For the last four years he has been located in this valley and has occupied during that time the office of deputy clerk of the U. S. district court of the first judicial district of Montana, and deputy receiver and register of lands. We understand that the family of Mr. Fawkes are now living in California. They have the sympathy of all the people of this valley in their bereavement. As we go to press the inquest into the cause of Mr. Fawkes' death is proceeding.

Church Festival.

As announced in our last issue the festival given by the ladies of the Congregational church, occurred on Thursday evening. In spite of the inclement weather which prevailed during the festival, the ladies of the church and the good people of Billings seemed of one mind turned out en masse to make Billings' first attempt in this line a success. Mr. Hulme's large building was taxed to its utmost. It was a grand success both socially and financially, and probably the most pleasant gathering that ever occurred in this part of the Territory. The ladies who worked so hard for their success were more than satisfied with the result of their undertaking. Mr. John Smith sent his compliments in the shape of a note to the ladies in charge, and on being opened it was found to contain $50. Mr. Garrison's band discoursed sweet music, and several ladies and gentlemen rendered some fine vocal music, while the multitudes were enjoying the good things that burdened the tables. The net receipts were $288.25. The ladies of the church are to be congratulated upon their success. We trust we will see more of like pleasant church festivals.

Notice.

As pastor of the Congregational church of Billings I desire to express through your columns our profound appreciation of the kindness shown us by the Billings public on the occasion of our recent festival. Our thanks are due first of all to the ladies, whose untiring labors conceived and executed the enterprise and labored with such united heartiness and good will, that it was a success. Our thanks are also due to Mr. Geo. B. Hulme for the use of his building; to the singers; to Mr. Garrison for the use of his band; to Mrs. Clark for the flowers; to the donors of provisions, and last but not least to those gentlemen who during the progress of the festival sent gifts of money, which in the case of Mr. John W. Smith amounted to $50. I feel it to be but simple justice to say that an incident of such spontaneous and truly splendid liberality on the part of donors and patrons alike has never before come under my observation. Billings is but an infant of months, and society here is yet so unadjusted that a social life can hardly be said to have begun, and yet at the call of the ladies in the short space of five days this enterprise was organized and carried forward to a degree of success quite unusual in even old communities. The occasion furnished the first opportunity which has occurred in Billings for a general social gathering, and I think that the revelation which it made touching the intelligence and refinement of our population must have been a matter of home pride to all. The total receipts amounted to $288.25. The receipts of which will cover all expenses, which sum virtually erases our debt and leaves a heavy and unpleasant burden. Respectfully, B. F. ENHART.
